

A wide-angle photograph of a renewable energy farm. In the foreground, rows of blue solar panels are tilted on a green grassy field. In the background, two large white wind turbines stand against a bright blue sky with scattered white clouds.

Welcome to St. Louis

November 6, 2019

Gateway Arch National Park

St. Louis Attractions

St. Louis Zoo

World Chess Hall of Fame

Anheuser-Busch InBev

The St. Louis Wheel

St. Louis Aquarium opening soon

The World's Famous Clydesdales

St. Louis

History of Building Infrastructure and Connecting the Nation

Interstate Highway System

- August 2, 1956 – Nations first interstate, Route 66, started here
- August 2, 1956 – Missouri awarded a contract for work on US 40
- First to award contracts and start construction

Eads Bridge

- World's first cantilevered steel construction opened in 1874 and the longest bridge in the world
- First to combined road and railway bridge

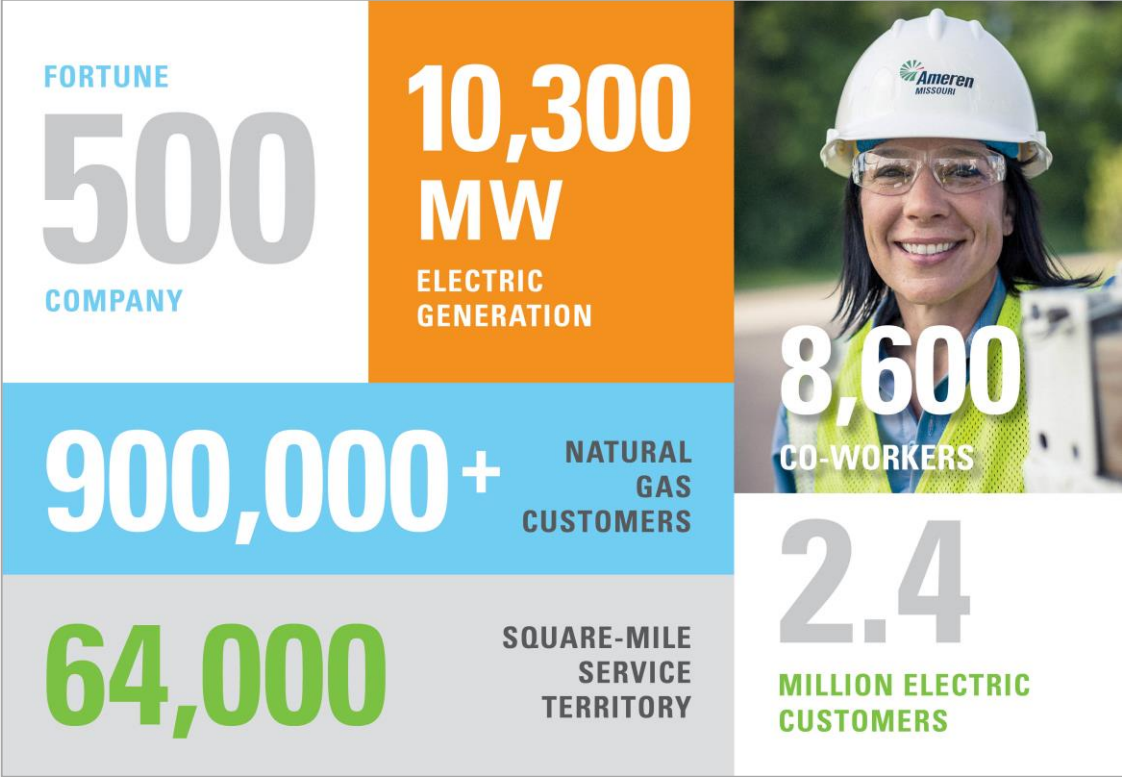

Ameren Transmission

- Enhancing reliability and affordability
- Transporting renewable energy across states

About Ameren

Ameren Corporation is a Fortune 500, fully rate-regulated electric and gas utility company headquartered in St. Louis.

We pride ourselves on operating safely and maintaining financial strength while providing reliable, reasonably priced energy in an environmentally responsible fashion.

Ameren's All In Culture

Innovation at Ameren

Keokuk Energy Center

- In 1913 it was the largest electric generating plant in the world
- Largest privately owned and operated dam on the Mississippi river

Osage Hydroelectric Power Plant

- Constructed during the Great Depression providing a great economic boost to the rural area

Taum Sauk Hydroelectric Power Station

- Innovative storage solution to help meet peak daytime power demand

